Title	CIO - Top 5 CIO Takeaways	CITM - Professional Development	TTL - Hot Topics: Moderated Group Therapy	Library - We've Got It Covered: New Ways of Delivering Academic Library Services	PPM - The Impact of our Project Management Methodologies on Project Success
Room	Sellinger Hall, room 003	Sellinger Hall, room 008	Sellinger Hall, room 107	Sellinger Hall, room 001	College Center, room 105
Abstract	Best practices and lessons learned.	Professional development is a career-long pursuit by educators and college administrators. The panelists in this session will share the ways in which they are providing members of their campus with opportunities to gain the skills, knowledge and tools they need to be more effective in their jobs and their work with students. A technology perspective.	A session to come share what is "bugging" you in the TTL world and start conversations for the rest of the conference.		Having success on projects is not by coincidence. You need to be strategic and plan for success, and use the tools and given to you by your PMO's. Learn how different school's PMOs incorporate project management discipline for different levels of complexity of projects, and together come up with what we think are the best practices to achieve project success.

Title	CIO & CITM - Cloud Computing & Strategies		Library & TTL - Online Education Exposed	PPM - What's in your portfolio?
Room	Cohn Hall, room 133		McManus Theater	Sellinger Hall, room 001
Abstract	The idea of moving our applications and infrastructure to the cloud will either feel like fool hardiness or preaching to the choir. Hear from a large, a medium and a smaller institution about their 'cloud first' strategies including: • Seattle University's cloud-first strategy • Fordham's Backup and Data Bus alternatives • John Carroll's Smaller school perspective • Looking Back – Reasons to embrace the cloud		Come share and learn about the state of online education at Jesuit Institutions. During this session the panel will lead a sharing session about the state of online education.	Aligning projects to institutional goals and objectives, knowing where to spend your dollars, assign your resources and prioritize your projects is all part of the business of project portfolio formation. Here, we will study some of the methods used to form our portfolios, dissecting what works well, what could use work, and what lessons we have to share with each other to ensure that our project portfolios contain the right projects, at the right time, and for the right reasons.

Title	CIO - Meeting with Fr. Sheeran	CITM - Security Policies	TTL & Library - Changing Times in Learning Spaces	PPM - Business Process Analysis - Shaping our future
Room	Sellinger Hall, room 003	Sellinger Hall, room 008	Cohn Hall, room 133	Sellinger Hall, room 105
Abstract		Security policies are essential to limit proactively the likelihood of incidents, and to define how to react when one occurs. This session will discuss the development of mobile, cloud, and digital security policies that work for most of the institutional community.	See how three campuses are approaching all of the changing requirements to Learning Spaces, including addressing their strategic planning, organizational structures, and of course, the furniture and technology.	Business process analysis, design and mapping are critical components to ensuring successful projects. Organizational culture also impacts the success of business process initiatives. We will discuss what we doing regarding BPM and share our successes and challenges. In examining these topics we will return to our schools with the information, tools and resources to ensure BPM's value in our universities.

Room	Sellinger Hall, room 008	Sellinger Hall, room 003	Sellinger Hall, room 107	Sellinger Hall, room 001
Abstract	IT Governance provides you with a gateway to the institution you serve and if you effectively organize, facilitate, and manage IT Governance you can reach higher levels of success by delivering results in alignment with institutional priorities. We will be discussing how to boost success, avoid the pitfalls, and fully leverage IT Governance to propel your organization forward and to greater technology ROI.	This session seeks to stimulate dialogue around what AJCU schools are doing to provide self-service and user support in the new normal (24 x 7, mobile, online education, cloud, and BYOD environments.) We will also discuss if schools have developed a "Knowledge Base" for users to resolve their own issues and what other forms of proactive strategies are being used to support our institution communities.	This panel with share the current challenges and successes with the following technologies on their college/university campus: tablet initiatives, learning management systems, and lecture capture.

Title	CIO - Business Value	CITM - Where do we go next?	TTL - AJCU 2014 Online Survey results	Library - Business Meeting	PPM - Leadership Through Influence
Room	Guilford Classroom	Brightons Classroom	Westminster Classroom	Seton Classroom	Ravenhurst Classroom
Abstract	Demonstrating the business value of information technology and how technology and the IT organization can help the institution achieve its goals.	The final frontier is here, and it involves information, not space exploration. This session will be a guided group discussion that covers multiple topics around new technologies that campuses are exploring or implementing, such as maker spaces, wearable technology, or adaptive learning technology. Which new technologies are relevant and which will flop?			Often time project managers lead teams over which they have no direct reporting authority. Leadership techniques that allow you to be successful leading teams without relying on direct authority will be explored, and we'll share experiences about managing projects in a matrix organization and lessons learned about leveraging informal authority. Let's discuss success through influence and not authority.
