Glenview resident wins Loyola award

Mary A. Hicks of Glenview recently received the prestigious Damen Award at the annual Loyola University Founders Dinner.

The award is named for Loyola University Chicago’s primary founder, Arnold Damen, S.J. This award is granted to an alumnus(a) from each of Loyola’s schools and colleges.

Hicks spent 15 years managing operations for small, entrepreneurial businesses before changing careers and joining the education field. This led her to Loyola’s School of Education in 1997, where she earned her master of education in 1999 and has been an adjunct faculty member since 2003.

Hicks earned a business degree from Marquette University, Currently, she is a doctoral student in language and literacy at Cardinal Stritch University in Milwaukee.

Nurse wins award

To honor some of the almost 100,000 nursing home professionals in the state, the Health Care Council of Illinois announced its Heroes in Long Term Care for 2012.

Frances Wolter, staff nurse at Glenview Terrace Nursing Center, is one of this year’s recipients.

Wolter has worked at the facility for 32 years with kindness and compassion that exceed expectations. Her sweetness, patience and loyalty make her a true hero. The residents love Wolter and her kind ways.

The annual program highlights the hard work of select staff in Illinois, such as nurses, administrators, building maintenance workers, laundry attendants and activity staff.
